'Returning to work as an Engineer I expected a difficult and time-consuming negotiation for insurance, but the team at Howden made it a painless process. They arranged my Professional Indemnity cover quickly and without hassle. Now I can get back to my work. Thank you.'

'Howden have been placing our professional indemnity insurance since 2006 and we have been continually impressed with their understanding of our own business and the engineering industry in general. In addition we know we can rely on Howden at any time to provide technical assistance, in particular a review of contracts and collateral warranties which has been very helpful to us'

'The reason we continue to use Howden to arrange our insurance is because we know that they will take care of everything, it is so hassle free with them. We have always felt in very safe hands with Howden Insurance Brokers, which is the whole point of having insurance. They couldn't have been more helpful in arranging cover quickly, efficiently and at a reasonable cost. We now never worry about our insurance.'

I was impressed by the way Howden took time to understand our business asking quite searching questions before they targeted suitable insurers. They certainly got us a good deal by comparison with other and one which had an extension option. They make a point of staying in touch and respond rapidly and efficiently to any enquiry. I look forward to working with them on renewal in the near future.

Howden provided our first years' of PI insurance cover when we were founded as consulting engineers in 2005. We strayed away for a couple of years through a transitional period but are very pleased to be back with the Howden team that provide us with an excellent insurance backup support as well as, now, our general office insurances cover. We have found the Howden team very responsive and flexible in meeting our requirements as OTB has developed.
